St Hilda’s Students Step Back in Time!

By Drama Captain Olivia Bathurst

Ready and awaiting orders? The students and staff certainly are! St Hilda’s School has kicked off the rehearsals for this year’s school musical, Return to the Forbidden Planet.

A hilarious space opera, Return to the Forbidden Planet, is based on Shakespeare’s famous play, The Tempest, and a retro piece of science fiction 1950s film making, The Forbidden Planet.

Filled with big ‘50s hair, Shakespeare’s unique humour and some ‘galactically’ rocking music, both staff and students look forward to that ever-looming performance to be staged in May.

The music will lift-off this year with hits such as Born to be Wild and Pretty Woman featuring throughout. The classics, like Great Balls of Fire and Tell Her, will also be played by the live band consisting of St Hilda’s finest. Music Co-Captain and band member, Genevieve Maurer, describes the musical as, “Something the audience members will know and be able to sing along to”.

With rehearsals already in full flight, the students have been working hard to bring the show together. Under the guidance of the director, Mr Jaron Winter, Head of Performing Arts, the lead characters are finding themselves faced with the difficult task of learning words created by Shakespeare and songs that are most likely the all-time favourites of most parents.

Jaron Winter believes that this show is an opportunity to showcase more than just the school’s amazing singers, actors and musicians, but the amazing dancers, choreographers and designers. With the three major shows being performed over Friday 2 and Saturday 3 May at the Arts Centre Gold Coast, everyone is hard at work.

‘Choice’ is the key to May’s success

By Debbie Buckley

I had the pleasure of meeting Old Girl May Chang during the Old Girls’ Weekend last October. May, who lives in San Francisco, had travelled to the Gold Coast to celebrate her 20-year reunion with classmates. I know there are many Old Girls who travel long distances to attend their reunions but I thought May’s efforts were particularly amazing.

Her school friend Melissa Allen (1993), who organised the reunion, had picked May up and accompanied her to St Hilda’s for our Friday night cocktail party. Melissa said that she might need some assistance as May used a wheelchair to assist her mobility. This made May’s commitment to attend her reunion even more incredible. May showed great delight in seeing her school friends and being back at the school. She said she had a wonderful time at her reunion held at the Gold Coast Turf Club.

May was in a car accident in 2005. She had a traumatic brain injury (TBI), was in a coma, and called a hospital home for six months. She was extremely lucky and regained all her cognitive functions, though she has yet to return to her full physical capabilities.

She was working at a venture capital firm at the time and going back to work was never in doubt. She began working on her Blackberry in the hospital and returned to the office in her wheelchair shortly after she returned home. However, many of her friends and family were perplexed by why she hurried back to work rather than focusing on recovery, especially given her adequate disability payments.

Throughout the next few years, while juggling physical rehab, a full-time job and finishing her law degree, she started to question the motivation behind her various ambitions: what is important to me and what do I want out of my life?

“After much soul-searching, I realised my career is about choice; I do not need to work, but I choose to do it,” said May. “Because it is a choice and not a requirement, work also gives me the freedom to pursue whatever I am passionate about.”

“My realisation has helped me make additional decisions: taking the California Bar Exam, starting a non-profit for TBI survivors, and applying to business school. None of these are an obligation, or an expectation I need to fulfill. Instead, they are my choices and they add value to my life. When I am asked how I stay so energetic and happy all the time, I say doing things I love makes life that much easier, even during the rough times.”

Today, May is Administrative Partner of GPSA Partners, a three-year-old commodities brokerage and trading firm. As a member of the start-up team, May was instrumental in setting up the firm’s operations and getting it off the ground.

She remains responsible for GPSA’s day-to-day operations and various functions, including human resources, finance, legal, facilities and investor relations, while the firm’s strategy and positioning continues to evolve. Prior to joining GPSA, May’s experience consisted of time spent in the start-up, consulting, venture capital and legal industries.

May is an outstanding role model for any St Hilda’s student past and present. We wish May continued success in her career and work.

Keep your connections current

To extend and connect the OGA network, we are linking with the new St Hilda’s School LinkedIn page. The OGA will be one of the groups within the wider school page.

LinkedIn is the world’s largest professional network where you can build your professional identity online and stay in touch with colleagues and classmates. It is also a platform to discover new career opportunities and many are finding work via this medium.

All you need to do is either create a LinkedIn account or if you already have one, add St Hilda’s School to the education area. As the school and the OGA progress with this new venture, we will keep you posted via website and email.

Email Communication

Have you updated your contact details with us lately? Spread the word!

We are planning a bi-monthly eNews to be sent to all Old Girls who have provided us with an email address and wanted to ensure we reach as many alumni as possible.

If you have an email address, please go to the St Hilda’s OGA website-Update Your Details page and do just that - update your contact details, especially your email address.

We want to stay in touch with you, and need your latest information. Do it now - it’s quick and easy! We look forward to hearing from you.

Supporting Young Women to Dream and to Achieve
I didn’t think I’d be writing a President’s message again, but boy, am I a sucker for a great cause! I did have full intentions of passing the baton to someone new (and will quite happily do so come October 2015!), but then heard about the launch of the St Hilda’s Foundation, and I was keen for the Old Girls’ Association to be involved.

The St Hilda’s Foundation has been established to bring communities together to support young women to dream and to achieve, and I feel that the OGA should be one of those communities.

The long-term success of the foundation will rely on the support of many within our local and wider community and the OGA is keen to work with the St Hilda’s Foundation to create new and extraordinary opportunities for young women.

The foundation is focused on philanthropy and we are delighted to let you know that Old Girl, Leeanne Cowley (current OGA Treasurer) is on the Foundation Board along with current parents, several School Council members and Head of School Peter Crawley.

Old Girls and the OGA will have an opportunity to partner with the St Hilda’s Foundation in its first year and enjoy the launch of this amazing journey.

The inaugural St Hilda’s Foundation Ball will be held on Saturday 22 March 2014 at the Surfers Paradise Marriott Resort and Spa and we look forward to seeing you at this wonderful event.

The Foundation is embarking on a Futures Program with three focus areas, linked to the mission and vision of St Hilda’s School. These are Education, Scholarships and Bursaries and Global Environment.

We will happily provide you with progress reports regarding the foundation and hope that you will support it now and in the years to come.

I feel privileged to be still connected to the St Hilda’s Old Girl community especially as I continue to see the excitement and enthusiasm of so many Old Girls who return to the school or contact us with their news.

The Foundation is embarking on a Futures Program with three focus areas, linked to the mission and vision of St Hilda’s School. These are Education, Scholarships and Bursaries and Global Environment.

We will happily provide you with progress reports regarding the foundation and hope that you will support it now and in the years to come.

I am also grateful to those Old Girls who put their hands up at the October AGM to assist on the OGA Committee for the next two years.

Best wishes.

Debbie Buckley (Clarke 1978)
President
Debbie Buckley (Clarke 1978)
I've remained a resident of the Gold Coast for most of my life with only a brief period living overseas before I married. My friends used to joke that I had my entire education within a block as I trained as a nurse and midwife at the old Gold Coast Hospital, within a stone's throw of St Hilda's School. Today, I have my own lifestyle management and professional organising business. I was married in the Chapel of St Hilda and sent my two daughters to St Hilda's. I have served on the OGA Committee for nine years, first as Vice President and then President. I thoroughly enjoy meeting fellow Old Girls at reunions and away lunches and feel we all have a very special connection, no matter our ages.

Vice-President
Leanne Gray (Dower 1986)
I'm new to the committee this year and my husband and I are currently parents at St Hilda's, having our daughter Jasmine in Year 7. Our son Harry is in Year 7 at TSS. I graduated in 1986 and went on to study Fashion Design under scholarship at the Paris American Academy of Fashion Design. I have received several RAQ fashion awards and was the youngest ever to win. I've been in the fashion industry ever since and am currently working in the family fashion businesses on the Gold Coast and in Brisbane - The House of Dower.

Secretary
Christine Prendergast (1973)
I graduated from St Hilda's in 1973, then attended Gatton College to study Agriculture. I went overseas to live in Denmark for a year and worked in a plant nursery. I returned home to do my Masters in Biochemistry at Sydney University, followed by five years of Veterinary Science at the University of Queensland. This degree nearly didn't happen because I was lax in opening the letter and responding to the offer that I didn't think I would ever get! As a newly graduated vet, I bought my own practice at Killarney. I married John, also a vet with his own practice, and we have a daughter Lorraine, who is in Year 12 at St Hilda's. John and I eventually moved to the Gold Coast and now operate Jacobs Well Veterinary Surgery. I've been a committee member for eight years and enjoy supporting the Old Girls’ Association and connecting with other Old Girls.

Treasurer
Leeanne Cowley (Rix 1980)
I am still happily living on the Gold Coast, enjoying the sunshine. I am married to Tony Cowley and we have two girls who attend St Hilda's in Years 4 and 6. I enjoy my career in commercial property and financial markets. Last year I agreed to become a board member of the St Hilda's Foundation. I am hoping to be able to give back to the school that gave me such a good start in life. When we do get some spare time in our busy lives, we enjoy a game of golf or hitting the ski slopes.

Meet the Committee

General Committee Members

Gemma Alker (Sanburg 1997)
Gemma Alker, a former Melaleuca House Captain, knows the balance of being a busy working mother. The school drop-off can be fun, getting her three energetic boys (Riley 8, Oliver 6, Elliott 2) out the door before turning up to work. Gemma is General Manager, Pathways and Partnerships, at Bond University, where she is developing the women's leadership, Indigenous and sport strategies. A communications specialist, she has worked on some exciting projects including the opening of the Gold Coast Convention and Exhibition Centre, Red Nose Day and being a part of the Sydney Olympic and Paralympic Games. Gemma has been married to Will for nine years.

Sian Ziukelis (Lloyd-Morgan 1997)
I attended St Hilda’s School from Year 8 in 1993 and graduated in 1997 and was in Banksia House. I attended Griffith University Gold Coast and completed a Bachelor of Business with an Accounting major and have been a Chartered Accountant since 2006. I worked in public practice from 2002 until 2007 before moving to commerce where I was the Executive Financial Controller for a developer until 2010. I started my own accounting and consulting business where I work three days a week, Ziukelis Consulting. I am married with two children, Aila Zulkelis who is 2½ and Arik Zulkelis who is 11 months.

Marilyn Martin (Pickering 1963)
I am proud to be a member of the Old Girls’ Association Committee. My sisters Joan and Dawn and I were known as the Pickering Sisters during our days as students at the school. My daughter and niece are also Old Girls of the school. I have been teaching Speech and Drama at St Hilda’s School for more than 20 years and still enjoy being a part of the St Hilda’s School community. Twice a month, I voluntarily work for Coast Guard and operate the radios at the Seaway Tower. My family live on the Gold Coast and I have two adorable grandchildren.

Toowoomba Away Lunch
31 May starting 12noon

Please spread the word near and far as we are heading back to Toowoomba for our annual lunch. Old Girls have travelled long distances to attend this lunch in the past to spend a wonderful afternoon catching up with new and old friends.

Claire Henkey
(Holtsbaum 1993)

Working for Bond University as the General Manager for Future Students, Claire has an interesting role as a Marketing Technologist responsible for digitising the Bond University marketing and recruitment strategy, to improve the student experience and streamline business processes. It’s an odd match to have a passion for data and analytics and the creative flair to bring marketing campaigns to life. After years of working in marketing roles in the food industry for Hans Smallgoods and Lenard’s, Claire is enjoying working for a premium brand such as Bond. Claire and husband Ryan are about to commence building a sustainable home in Runaway Bay and are enjoying the challenge of finding ways to build a healthy home, free of toxic chemicals and energy efficient at the same time.

Marian Michael
(Perdriaux 1957)

I feel honoured to be part of the OGA Committee once again. St Hilda’s School has played a large part in my life and I have always been grateful for the wonderful education I gained from both the boarding house and classroom. Coming from the small country town of Kyogle in NSW, it was a huge leap but meeting with wonderful girls, many from Western Queensland, together we became our own little family and our confidence and independence soared. My husband, Jim Michael and I recently celebrated 50 years of marriage. We were both in the teaching profession and have two daughters, also teachers. I worked in the boarding house for many years. One of the most rewarding consequences of a career working with children is the many times you meet up with them during your life and remember those wonderful years spent together. Living on the Gold Coast with my surf-loving family has meant I have been able to attend most OGA meetings over the years. I have enjoyed keeping in touch with my friends from the ‘50s and our reunions have given us a very special bond.
Tina Jost (Newman 1980)
I have changed my career from being a PA for professors at the University of Cambridge to a self-employed artist with my close studio, the White House Studio, situated in the quaint little village of Swaffham Prior, 10 miles from Cambridge. I teach children, teenagers and adults all forms of art, running small personalised classes. I have also entered some of my artwork into the Royal Academy of Art Summer Exhibition for 2014. I finally got to live my dream at 50!

Heather Smith (1986)
Small business accounting expert and Xero advisor Heather Smith is helping global businesses maximise their investment in the cloud accounting platform, with the newly released Xero for Dummies. Heather wrote the step-by-step guide which provides a comprehensive introduction to Xero in an easy-to-understand format.

Nicole Daley (Hannaford 1993)
In early 1999, I qualified as a gemologist and valuer and in 2008 created Ti Amo, an inspired range of beautiful one-off pieces, exclusive to 5th Avenue Jewellers. My husband, also a gemologist and valuer, is a master jeweller in the business. In 2011, we welcomed a baby girl, Grace, into our world. After more than 19 years at Broadbeach, 5th Avenue Jewellers has relocated to Isle of Capri.

Allison Brown (1988)
Allison left St Hilda’s before graduating to go to work at the Louis Vuitton store in Surfers Paradise. A few years later, she told her father that she wanted to go to university and study Medicine. However, she needed to complete Year 12 at TAFE to gain course entry. Allison worked hard and was accepted to study Medicine, graduated and has become a specialist. Allison is now working at the Holy Spirit Hospital in Brisbane as the senior specialist within the ICU.

Karen Smith (Bell 1986)
I have a new business called Talking Heads Public Speaking and Media Training. My main goal is to train children from ages six to 18 to have the confidence to stand up and speak in front of the class. We also do training for job interviews and public speaking competitions. Contact karen.smith@talking-heads.com.au

Diane Cartmill (Satchell 1978)
Di and her husband John have owned a small block of flats at Bilinga for years. It was quite a rundown, old-fashioned building close to the beach that they made available for rent. Two years ago, Di and John set about transforming the flats into a fabulous 1960s-inspired motel. Today, La Costa Motel at Bilinga is rated number two in the Australian Budget Motel division on Trip Advisor and number three in the South Pacific which includes Australia, New Zealand and Fiji.

Amelia Bell (2010)
This year I am participating in the World’s Greatest Shave. Why? Because every 46 minutes, someone in Australia is diagnosed with blood cancer; because in our lifetimes most of us will come face to face with cancer, whether it is a loved one or ourselves being diagnosed; and because I want to show solidarity with all the brave women and men losing their hair to chemotherapy by shaving rather than simply colouring my hair. All the money raised helps the Leukaemia Foundation. It is an incredibly worthy cause, so please consider donating or even being brave and participating yourselves! To sponsor me, and help this great cause, please visit www.worldsgreatestshave.com and follow the ‘Sponsor’ links.

Nicole Gibson (2008)
After overcoming mental health challenges, Nicole established The Rogue and Rouge Foundation, a charitable organisation, to reverse the stigmatisation of mental health, body image and self-esteem issues in Australia’s young people. Nicole is tackling the epidemic of low self-esteem by creating community outreach programs and working directly with schools. She has conducted workshops at 250 schools across Australia as well as fundraising to provide financial assistance for young people and their families while they undergo treatment for mental health challenges. In her role as a mental health campaigner, Nicole was a Queensland State Finalist in the 2014 Young Australian of the Year Awards. In November 2013, she spoke at St Hilda’s for yLead. Old Girl Loren Tier (2006) also works with Nicole at the Foundation. For information and donations: www.rogueandrouge.org.au

Barbara Lowing (1979)
Superstar of the Queensland theatre scene (well, we think so!), Barb Lowing has received several award nominations for her work. Barb was working consistently during 2013 in productions such as the China Incident, Tequila Mockingbird and Motherland. This year sees her on stage at QPAC’s Playhouse in Australia Day. She was a nominee for the 2013 Groundlings Awards for Outstanding Contribution by an Actress and the 2013 Silver Matilda Award for Best Female Actor in a Leading Role.

Isobel Allaway (2009)
I am living in Poland and working as a professional ballet dancer. I was training for four years in Zurich and now am a demi soloist in the company, Teatr Wielki Lodz. I also worked in Slovakia last season and hope to travel around Europe with my job.

Pru, a former Melaleuca House Captain, was involved in every school musical and drama production. She has been dancing since the age of three and moved to Melbourne in 2009 where she gained a Diploma in Dance Performance and Musical Theatre at Danceworld APO Arts Academy, as well as a Diploma in Photography. Pru travelled to London, New York and Los Angeles training and performing in LA’s Carnival. She is a member of the Sole Symphony Hip Hop crew and also performed in the first season of Wild Eagles Fly Alone with Redback Dance Co. She also performed in Guy Sebastian’s Gold and Art vs Science Higher Film clips, Tuxedo Junction with Chelsea Gibb, a number of television commercials and Winners and Losers. Pru works as a freelance teacher at numerous dance schools in Melbourne.

WEDDINGS

Christie McAvinue (Turner 1998)

Chris and I were married at the Bulgari Resort, Bali on 29 September 2013. The wedding venue was booked the day Chris bought my engagement ring. A total of 27 guests attended some coming from New York, New Zealand and London. Two of my bridesmaids are lifelong friends, made at school and also class of ’98 graduates - Natasha Gorshechnikov (Szalai 1998) and Clea Romeo (Sandler 1998). One of our guests was TSS Old Boy Daniel Belcher who was, coincidentally, my formal partner (and I his partner at the TSS formal). Chris and I met in 2000 while I worked at Myer and I was at the United Nations. Since our wedding we have moved home to Sydney.

Alexandra Jones (2008)

We were married in the St Francis Xavier Church in North Sydney and had our reception at Moby Dick’s, Whale Beach on 29 November 2013. My husband, Patrick, is from Young, NSW. We met on a spontaneous trip to London with school friend Sarah Kidd (2003) and I then spent four weeks honeymooning in Europe.

Samantha-Louise Hogan (2006)

Samantha met the dashing Pete Thelwell at Bond University where they were students. Uk-born Pete swept Sammy off her feet. A true romantic, Pete proposed on their anniversary at Palazzo Versace on bended knee and they were married at the Chapel of St Hilda on 2 November 2013, followed by a beautiful reception at Palazzo Versace. Sam was attended by her sister Vanessa Hogan (2012) and two other Old Girl friends, Lauren Boyle (2006) and Maddison Bone (2006).

Lyndel Corin (1978)

On 28 September 2013, Lyndel Corin married Anthony Done at the Good Shepherd Anglican Church, Brookfield followed by a reception at the Brookfield Hall for 120 friends and family. Guests included those from the UK and Sydney, where Lyndel has lived for 25 years as well as her old school friends Adrienne Jones (1978), Sheridan Gschwind (1978) and Julie Inhelder (1978). Anthony and Lyndel met over four years ago at Kimberley Fumell’s Jones (1986) 40th birthday. Anthony is the brother of Adrienne’s husband of 25 years, Graeme, so they are all one happy family now with Anthony’s two daughters. Lyndel’s sisters Nicki Powell (1982) and Alicia Morris (1985) are also Old Girls who both left St Hilda’s to become daygirls at St Aidan’s in Brisbane.

Tegan Gilligan (Little 2008)

We were married by St Hilda’s School Chaplain, Father Andrew Schmidt, at St Margaret’s Chapel on the Gold Coast. My husband, Leigh Gilligan, and I then spent four weeks honeymooning in Europe.

Megan Smith (Kerkow 2003)

Megan Kerkow met Liam Smith on a spontaneous trip to London with school friend Dominique Atzenhoffer (2003) in 2008. Reconnecting in Noosa over 12 months later, the couple were married on 5 October 2013 at St Peter’s Church in Southport, followed by a reception at the Southport Golf Club. Bridesmaids were Megan’s sister Lauren Kerkow (1999), Sarah Kidd (2003) and college friend Melanie Sullivan. Megan is the daughter of Rhonda Kerkow (Smith 1967), and niece of Lee Williams (Smith 1970).
